We have taken a sample of this product from a manufacturing run and have tested using the AATCC 100 test method. We can confirm that the antimicrobial performance achieved meets the technical requirements of our Purista™ co-branding program. Products treated in this way may display our Purista™ brand logotype, providing the applicator, brand or retailer of the treated, finished product completes our Brand User Agreement. More information about the Purista™ brand program can be found at www.purista.biz.
